Woodland Promenade

This central path offers places to sit and enjoy woodland views as well as a colorful palette of annual plantings.

Overlook Garden

Perennials, shrubs and ornamental trees frame overlook seating that offers a place to relax in the breeze.

Stream Garden

A wooded hillside is filled with the soothing sounds of a dramatic, cascading water feature flowing past spring wildflowers and summer-blooming hydrangeas.

Glade Garden

An opening in the woodlands creates a sun-drenched garden room focused on the seasonal colors and patterns of the landscape.

Model Train Garden

Both the young and young at heart are captivated by trains. When combined with the beauty of the landscape, the imagination goes wild in this special little garden.

Forest Pond

Flowering water lilies and other ornamental aquatic plants break the surface reflections of the surrounding forest.

Walking Trails

The Atlanta Botanical Garden Gainesville offers three short trail walks through fragrant and visually appealing shade plantings that celebrate natural forest vistas. Visitors with strollers or wheelchairs should consult Garden staff before venturing out to ensure safety and comfort.

Woven Whimsy: Stickworks by Patrick Dougherty

In spring 2016, artist Patrick Dougherty used locally sourced materials to sculpt the oversized work titled "Made From Scratch" on the Garden's Event Lawn. Walk in and around the exhibitions, but please don't climb it. The sculpture will naturally decay after two years.
